Borderline Arts has members from both sides of the Queensland and NSW border.

'Borderline' is a community based non-profit organisation which aims to encourage artistic expression, creative development, and interaction with other artists. We run workshops, group exhibitions, social gatherings and provide networking opportunities, information on exhibitions, competitions, prizes, sales outlets, festivals, and access to the Borderline web site members pages. Members span a wide range of media and art practices and include the novice to the more experienced.
